Saudi uses Gulf, Arab and Muslim countries meetings to rally against Iran not US or Jewish entity

According to the Guardian: Saudi Arabia's King Salman has said that attacks on Saudi oil assets last month are a threat to global oil supplies and regional security, while again accusing Iran-backed groups of carrying them out.

"The drone attacks on Saudi oil pumping stations carried out by groups supported by Iran not only threaten the security of the kingdom and the Gulf, but also threaten maritime safety and global oil supplies," Salman said at an Organisation of Islamic Cooperation summit in the Saudi city of Mecca on Saturday.

On Friday Salman convened emergency summits of Gulf and then Arab leaders to discuss drone strikes on oil installations in Saudi and attacks on four vessels, including two Saudi oil tankers, off the UAE coast in May. Salman told the Arab meeting that decisive action was needed to stop Iranian "escalations" in the region.

Riyadh has accused Tehran of ordering the drone strikes, which were claimed by Yemen's Iran-aligned Houthi group. US national security adviser John Bolton said on Thursday that evidence of Iran's being behind the tanker attacks would be presented to the UN Security Council as early as next week.

Tehran has denied involvement in either attack.

Salman said the summit would seek to confront "aggressive threats and subversive activities" and work for the future of Arab and Islamic states.

Instead of targeting the root of troubles in the Gulf, the Arab and the Muslim world, which is the interference of the foreign disbeliever, in particular the superpower, the United States of America, the Saudi King, Salman, is attempting to rally against Iran.

It is the American and Western agenda to divide Muslim countries against each other. The very design of these international bodies, the Gulf Cooperation Council, the Arab League and the Organisation of Islamic Countries is intended to perpetuate divisions amongst Muslims by maintaining independent sovereign nation states, even though Muslims are one nation which should have a singular state, system and leadership, as existed for more than a thousand years under successive Khulafa (Caliphs) entrusted and pledged to lead the Ummah in accordance with Islam.

It is America that inflamed tensions with Iran; but now Trump claims he doesn't want war and has pushed the countries in the region, led by the Saudi King, to confront Iran.

American Plan for Palestine is intended to Eliminate it

According to Reuters: The U.S. blueprint to end the conflict between Israel and the Palestinians, still in draft form after almost two years, is seen by Palestinians, and by some Arab officials and politicians, as a plan to finish off the Palestinian cause.

The initiative, driven by Jared Kushner, Donald Trump's son-in-law and White House adviser, was billed by the U.S. president as the "deal of the century".

While its precise outlines have yet to be revealed, Palestinian and Arab sources who have been briefed on the draft plan say Kushner has jettisoned the two-state solution - the long-standing U.S. and international formula that envisages an independent Palestinian state alongside Israel in the West Bank, east Jerusalem and Gaza.

After several postponements, Washington plans a first formal outing of the economic components of the plan at a "Peace for Prosperity" workshop in June in Bahrain.

The Western one-state and two-state solutions have long been history. They were introduced at a time when the West were uncertain of the reaction of Muslim rulers to the Jewish presence. But as the rulers of Muslims have proved to be ever more unprincipled, weak and pliable in Western hands, the Jewish entity has been allowed to take full control of the land of Palestine, relegating its original inhabitants as mere colonial subjects. America's latest plan, the so-called 'deal of the century' is only intended to formalise an already existing reality.

The Muslim Ummah is fully capable of taking back the relatively small land of Palestine from the Jews. But this will never happen as long as we are ruled by an agent class that is captive, emotionally, intellectually and politically, to its Western masters.

Western Divisions Evident again over China

According to Reuters: The United States raised the pressure on Western allies in a war of attrition over next-generation networks on Friday, saying countries that allow China's Huawei to build their telecoms infrastructure could be cut off from crucial intelligence data.

Secretary of State Mike Pompeo issued the warning after meeting Foreign Minister Heiko Maas of Germany, which has so far stood with Britain and France in declining calls to ban the state-owned manufacturer from the 5G networks now being built.

In the latest sign of escalating trans-Atlantic tensions over trade and security, Pompeo, on the first leg of a five-day European tour, said that while countries would take a "sovereign decision" on which equipment to use, that decision would have consequences.

The Western countries all share the same history, culture and ideological perspective. Yet they never cease struggling against each other, as is evident once more over the issue of China's ascendancy as a global power. While wanting America to take leadership in confronting China's rise, the European powers also want to take benefit from this struggle, and technology is one area in which they see the possibility of countering America's overbearing approach and the excessive domination of its global technology companies. But America also is aware of European moves, and is using the issue of Huawei's 5G technology to force Europe back into line.

These conflicts and struggles between the disbelievers should give Muslims confidence that, if united under a singular leadership, there is nothing to stop them becoming the first nation on this planet once more, as they were previously for over a millennium under the rule of the Islamic Khilafah (Caliphate) State.
