News:

A bomb attack took place on Taksim Istiklal Street in Istanbul on November 13, killing 6 people and seriously injuring 81 people, 2 of whom were seriously injured. "We do not accept, we reject the condolences of the US Embassy" said the Internal Affairs Minister, Suleyman Soylu, who made statements after the attack.

Soylu: "Of course, our alliance with a state that feeds the terrorist areas of Kobani and sends money from their own senate to this understanding, which is trying to disrupt the peace of Turkey from there, should be discussed. We are no one's enemy, we have no eyes on anyone's land. We're not being a traitor to anyone. I would like to express that of course we do not have the strength to tolerate these treacheries ..." Comment:

While Islam preaches many decrees aimed at the praise of Muslims whose essence and words are true, it has declared deception, lies and empty words as haram and ugly. Especially the truthfulness and reliability of the people in the governing authority are much more important, which is a requirement of responsibility to both Allah and Muslims. Muslims have witnessed such suffering, destruction, death, betrayal, deception and lies in this geography and in these lands for a century that they are now surprised which one is more painful.

The religion, blood, life, property and chastity of Muslims are sacred, and the primary duty to protect them has been entrusted to the state. Unfortunately, today, while these values are being trampled on by infidels (Kuffar) every day in this geography, the shamelessness and spirited rhetoric of the rulers who allow this does not really make any sense. We should ask the Minister who said that we even know the shoe sizes of the terrorists in the country until yesterday, how come he can't prevent a bomb attack in one of the most important places in the country!

As long as you accept the United States, Great Britain, Russia, China, Western states and the Jewish presence as friends and allies, which are the actors of terrorism, the lives of this Ummah will never be safe. The ingenuity is not to explain that the US Embassy, which issued a message of condolence on the bomb attack that occurred, did not accept its condolences. To be able to take action in response to the attack. It is to prevent these actions without costing people's lives. It's spoiling the game. Otherwise, the condolences that the Interior Minister did not accept, President Erdogan accepted the condolences conveyed by the United States from the highest pitch during his meeting with Biden at the G-20 Summit. Not only that, but he still talked about the partnership, the relationship, the purchase and modernization of the F-16. We are tired of your fancy words, your political rhetoric, your statements that deceive the public, your relations with terrorist states, your mismatched jobs. You will both imply that these terrorist states are the perpetrators of the lives lost, and you will still talk about the alliance. You will say that you are not an enemy to anyone. Dear Noble; we will remain enemies with these unbelievers, especially with these terrorist states that wash their hands with Muslim blood, until the Day of Resurrection. We will not stop until we destroy their reign of tyranny. This is the necessity of our faith. Now you have to make a decision. Either you will abandon the fancy but hollow words that deceive the people and give up the games of alliance with these colonial states, the real political nonsense ... You will close the embassies of these terrorist states, which are the center of espionage, and remove our lands from being the base of operations of the infidels. Or you will continue to watch these terrorist states, to which you have given all kinds of support with your actions, make Muslims pay the price.

We know that Muslims will defend their religion, their blood, their lives, for the cost of their lives, and we have no choice but to create a Caliphate (Khilafah) that will threaten the terrorist states. With the replacement of the Caliphate, fears will return to security, worries will return to peace, impotence will return to power and dignity.
