

USA is Hatching a New Plan after the Previous Plan was Exposed and Thwarted by the Ummah

News:

Armed Rohingya groups have begun recruiting from Cox's Bazar refugee camps to assist in fighting against the Arakan Army in Rakhine. The information was revealed in a report from the International Crisis Group titled "Bangladesh/Myanmar: The Dangers of a Rohingya Insurgency". The report notes that after the Arakan Army's victory over Myanmar's military in Rakhine, the Rohingya groups have become increasingly active and they have agreed to work together against the Arakan Army, a group that counts Rakhine's Buddhist majority as its base. Comment:

The so-called humanitarian corridor for the Rakhine state of Myanmar was clearly a US project to upset British backed Military Junta Government of Myanmar. It was originally designed to push Military Junta out of Kyaukpau and Sittwe (Akyab), the last strongholds in the Rakhine state for the military government (Tatmadaw). However, due to the bold stance of the people of Bangladesh, including its armed forces, against this so-called humanitarian corridor, the word "corridor" became synonymous to 'a threat to the national security' of Bangladesh and 'a dirty trick of the USA'. So, the USA has to revise its strategy and bring an Islamic dimension in the scene to bring public sentiments in her favor and play her nasty geopolitics. Arakan Army which represents the clear Buddhist majority in the Rakhine State is the focal point of US proxy war against the Junta Government. While, the ARSA (Arakan Rohingya Salvation Army) represents the Muslim minority in the Rakhine State. However, both groups have ties with the US under the 'Burma Unified through Rigorous Military Accountability act 2022' of the USA, which explicitly includes provision for supporting anyone and everyone who is opposing or fighting the Tatmadaw. In 2023, Burma Act was included in the US National Defense Authorization Act (NDAA) in order to dispatch funds and military logistical supports to the groups those are fighting the Junta government. And now, after the US sensed that her plan to embolden Arakan Army in the name of a humanitarian corridor through Bangladesh was exposed, she has resorted to activate other groups with Islamic identity to reverse the public sentiments in Bangladesh. Under these circumstances the sudden increase of recruitment in the Rohingya camps are happening.

It is not surprising that the US will resort to all possible means to implement their evil schemes in the Bay of Bengal. However, the Ummah must distance herself from being a part of this schemes. The Ummah must understand that any insurgency (even in the name of Jihad) under the supervision and direct help of the US or any other Kuffar States will not solve a single problem that the Ummah is currently facing. Insurgency has been proven fruitless for the Ummah many instances including the problems of the Syrians, Kurds, Baloch, Kashmir and many other places. Although rivers of Muslim blood were sacrificed, the Ummah couldn't move forward towards victory and honor. It is the Kuffar Colonialist who gained from the sacrifices of sacred blood of the Ummah of Prophet Muhammad (saw). If blood and lives of the Muslims must be sacrificed, then why not sacrifice that for a pure Islamic cause?

Besides, the Muslims of Bangladesh must discard the idea of 'nationalism' in viewing the Rohingya Muslims. Because nationalism is that fetal poison which made the great Ummah fragmented and weak before her Kuffar enemies. The Muslims must ponder about the unparalleled success of their forefathers who embraced every possible tribe, race and color and melted them under the La ilaha illallah to form a formidable Ummah. So, the Muslims of Bangladesh must not view the Rohingya Muslims as foreigners and refugees, rather they must view them as Muslim brothers. They must embrace the Rohingya Muslims like the Muslims of Medina embraced the Muslims of Mecca. The cause and interest of the Muslims of Bangladesh is not separate from the cause and interest of the Rohingya Muslims, so they must make their cause unified under a just Khaleefah (Caliph). ﴿إِنَّ هَذِهِ أُمَّةٌ وَاحِدَةٌ وَأَنَا رَبُّكُمْ فَاعْبُدُون﴾. "Truly! This Ummah is one single Ummah, and I am your Lord, so worship Me alone." [Al-Anbiya: 92]. The Khaleefah will ensure the true liberation of Arakan; liberation of Muslim lands from the physical occupation of the Kuffar, as well as the liberation of Muslims' hearts and minds from kuffar ideas such as nationalism and secularism. Only then the conspiracies of the head of Kuffar, USA can be conclusively foiled.
