Pakistan President Confirms the Failure of Democracy

Speaking at a function at the Nazariya-i-Pakistan ("Pakistan Ideology") Trust in Lahore on 20 December 2015, he said, "Pakistan has reached the peak of deficiency and cannot be further deficient. Now it has only to improve and we all should make efforts in this regard." It's a new level of nonsense from the regime to declare that things will improve because things can not get any worse. As usual the regime is wrong, even in this setting of a new low standard for ruling.

The reality is that Democracy is still implemented in Pakistan and it will continue to worsen the economic deprivation and foreign policy humiliation that the country is being subjected to. Democracy will ensure the implementation of capitalism which will continue to concentrate the wealth of the country in the hands of a few, depriving the masses. Democracy will ensure that the country will be tied through an alliance with America, whose foreign policy means continuously exploiting Pakistan's capabilities to secure American interests within the region, whether with regards to India or Afghanistan.

Clearly the President is wrong. The situation has not reached the bottom of the abyss, whilst Democracy still exists in Pakistan. The only way for things to improve is to abolish democracy and establish the Khilafah in its place, which will rule by all that Allah (swt) has revealed and so raise Pakistan according to its actual potential.

Fighting the Political Expression of Islam

Amid allegations that not enough was being done to tackle growing extremism in the country, the armed forces announced on 22 December that they would take on this menace (extremism) as well in addition to their continuing operations against terrorism. Top armed forces commanders expressed their commitment at a meeting of the Joint Chiefs of Staff Committee (JCSC). "All military leaders resolved to continue operations to eliminate terrorism and help government fight extremism," a statement issued by the ISPR said. Countering extremism, an analyst told the Dawn, would be a more difficult task for the army as compared to fighting terrorism. "This (countering extremism) is not army's job," the analyst added.

Using the evils of sectarianism and common criminality as a cover, the traitors in the military leadership are working to prevent Jihad against the American crusaders, denouncing it as terrorism, and the political expression, denouncing it as extremism. The traitors have unleashed the ISI and MI to conduct a witch-hunt to persecute any group that calls for the resumption of Islam as a way of life and state. This is despite the fact that Islam has mandated the formation of a group to undertake political expression of Islam.

Hizb ut Tahrir, which has been a central target of the regime's brutality, was established in response to the Ayah in the Noble Quran in Surah Aali Imran ordering the establishment of a group to call people to the good and forbid the evil. Allah (subhanahu wa ta'ala) ordered in the Noble Quran, ﴿وَلْتَكُنْ مِنْكُمْ أُمَّةٌ يَدْعُونَ إِلَى الْخَيْرِ وَيَأْمُرُونَ بِالْمَعْرُوفِ وَيَنْهَوْنَ عَنِ الْمُنْكَرِ وَأُولَئِكَ هُمُ الْمُفْلِحُونَ﴾ "Let there be among you a group that invites to the good, orders what is right and forbids what is evil, and they are those who are successful" [3:104]. As the Hizb's struggle is purely intellectual and political in nature and aims to promote the Islamic ideology, none but the slaves of America can consider it as illegal considering the fact that the moral case for Pakistan's creation was that Muslims of the Indian Subcontinent would be able to live in this country according to the injunctions of Islam.

Khilafah Will End Democracy's VIP Culture

An infant died at the doorstep of the Civil Hospital in Karachi on 23 December as, according to officials and witnesses, she did not receive medical treatment in time because of a security cordon for PPP Chairman Bilawal Bhutto Zardari. The blood-curdling images flashed on TV screens of a young man from Lyari running in frenzy to the hospital with a 10-month child wrapped under dark sheets in his arms as the PPP chairman was inaugurating a state of the art trauma centre. The trauma on the face of the father, later identified as Faisal, turned into grief when he was informed by doctors at the hospital that the child, Bisma, suffering from measles complications, was no longer alive and she could have been saved had she arrived a few minutes earlier.

The VIP culture of the current leadership in Pakistan is a disgrace. Roads are blocked and access is denied causing immense suffering as military and civilian leaders make their movements as if they are kings and emperors. People have suffered from dehydration just waiting for VIPS to pass. This VIP culture is a consequence of the arrogance that consumes a heart that accepts to make laws for others, deciding what is forbidden and allowed according to whims and desires. Democracy itself makes men into lords over other men.

In contrast, the ruling by Islam humbles a man, for each law that he implements is according to what has been revealed by the Lord of all mankind, Allah (swt). We saw no VIP culture for RasulAllah (saaw) who was most deserving of respect, over and above any who has walked this earth or will ever. People had to enquire as to which was RasulAllah (saaw) was when he was sitting amongst his beloved Sahaba (ra), he slept on a straw mat which marked his back and collected firewood to cook. The Khaleefah ar-Rashid Omar (ra) often was found after Fajr sleeping on the steps of the mosque, exhausted from his night patrol. He was found lying under a tree, when receiving the foreign delegation. A Roman emissary arrived in Madinah on important diplomatic business with the Khaleefah. When he enquired as to the whereabouts of Umar, he was directed to a man sleeping peacefully under a tree: with no bodyguards, no weapons, no fortifications and no security. The Roman messenger marvelled at this sight: the sight of the leader of millions of people sleeping peacefully under a tree without a care in the world. He then remarked his famous words that remain etched into history until today: "O Umar! You ruled. You were just. Thus you were safe. And thus you slept."

The Ummah yearns for the re-establishment of Islam as a righteous Khilafah state upon the method of the Prophethood. A state which will be run by a generation of leaders who humble themselves before their Lord, earnestly striving to make His Word as the Highest, caring not the least for this Dunya and its accolades.

Support of Bashar al-Assad, the Tyrant of Syria, is US Plan

Pakistan on 23 December 2015 stated that it is against any attempt to topple the government of Syrian President Bashar al Assad. "Pakistan is also against foreign military intervention in Syria and fully supports the territorial integrity of the Syrian Arab Republic," said Foreign Secretary Aizaz Chaudhry. "Pakistan supports all efforts employed at facilitating a peaceful Syrian-led and inclusive solution that meets the aspirations of the Syrian people through a comprehensive political dialogue," added Chaudhry. It is pertinent to mention that since the start of the Syrian conflict, Pakistan had maintained a policy of strict neutrality. The statement from the foreign secretary marks a significant shift in Pakistan's policy on the ongoing Syrian crisis.

The change in the government position was expected. America has been unable to build a credible alternative to Bashar Al-Assad despite trying since March 2011, when the people of Syria began their blessed revolution against the cruel Al-Assad dynasty which has undertaken a campaign of bombings, abductions, assassinations and rape to subdue the people. Through UNSC resolution and other means, the US is seeking to support its loyal agent, Bashar al-Assad, as much as it can. Being a slave to the US interests, like Iran's regime, the Raheel-Nawaz regime has openly spoken in support of Bashar Al-Assad at a critical juncture.

The Raheel-Nawaz regime seeks to extend the scope of its treachery well outside of its region, earning even more of the wrath of Allah (swt). It is noted that it pours scorn over any suggestion to liberate Kashmir, Afghanistan or Palestine. However, as soon as Washington beckons, it heeds its every requirement. InshaaAllah the blessed revolution of ash-Shaam will succeed by the help of Allah (swt) and achieve the re-establishment of the Khilafah upon the method of the Prophethood. It is upon the Muslims of Pakistan, and the armed forces in particular, to fulfill their duty for the return of the Khilafah and the abolition of slavery to America.
