IMF COVID 19 FUNDING A TOOL TO SAVE THE WEST'S GLOBAL ECONOMIC COLONIALISM

The International Monetary Fund (IMF) has approved a total of $18 billion so far to help dozens of countries bear the impact of the coronavirus pandemic, a spokesperson said on Thursday.

“Since roughly the beginning of April until May 6th, yesterday, we have approved financing for 50 countries under these emergency facilities,” Gerry Rice, the head of the IMF communications department, said at a virtual press briefing.

“It's an IMF moving at an unprecedented speed in an unprecedented way to meet this unprecedented challenge, which we are all facing of course.”

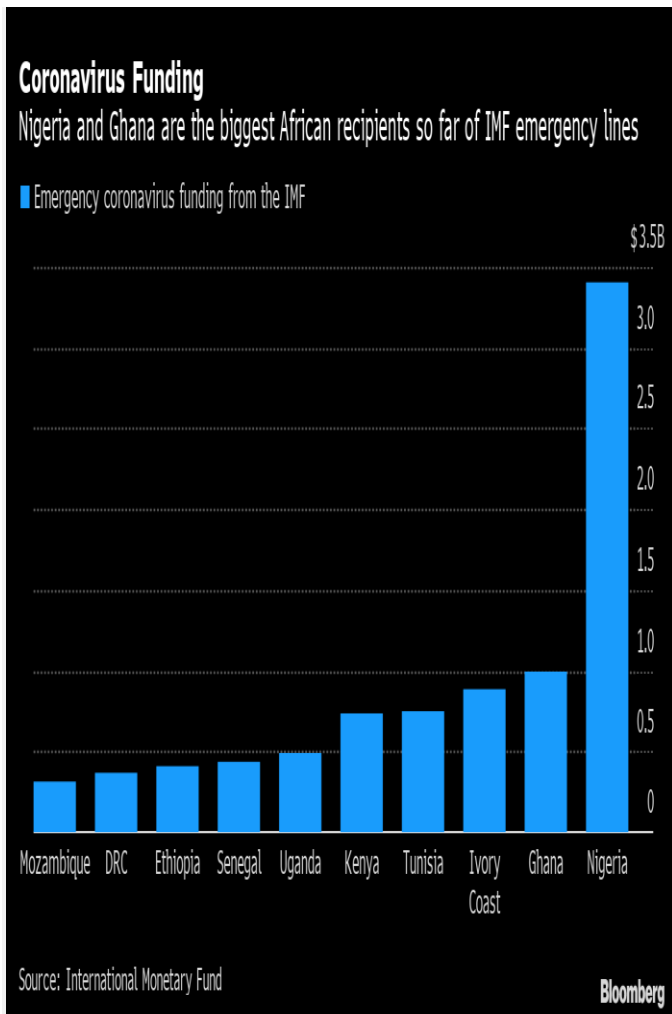

He said over 100 countries had requested or expressed interest in assistance from the IMF since the start of the COVID-19 crisis. The spokesperson said the fund had increased access to its emergency facilities – the rapid credit facility and the rapid financing instrument – to meet an expected global demand of $100 billion.

Rice explained that the emergency assistance for COVID-19 was not comparable with normal IMF programs since the funds were not tied to certain conditions.

“Importantly, these facilities allow the Fund to provide emergency assistance without the need to have a full-fledged program. So, they do not entail the usual IMF conditionality,” he said.

To ensure [no] misuse of funds, he said member countries were asked to commit that the money was only being used for urgent purposes related to COVID-19. [Anadolu Agency] improving healthcare and education, boosting food security, or to save the 10% of the world population that the World Bank, the IMF's sister organisation, says live in extreme poverty. The answer to this is that the IMF and World Bank were created not to support global wellbeing and prosperity but to sustain the colonial system that supports the economies of the West.

Before World War II, European countries had developed extensive empires, from whose territories they cheaply extracted resources and manpower, while selling them Western manufactures at high rates, paying for which resulted in the depletion of the wealth of colonial territories also. It is this same arrangement that has been continued on a worldwide scale after the end of formal empires, with Western countries continuing to exploit the wealth, resources and manpower of the rest of the world. The purpose of the IMF and the World Bank, created in 1944 as a replacement for formal imperial economic systems, is to stabilise the new global imperial model. Over time, excessive wealth depletion leads to domestic economic instability. The IMF's role in this is more political than economic; the IMF intervenes when domestic instability becomes politically unmanageable, providing immediate funding to weak political governments. And through 'conditionalities' attached to these loans, the IMF ensures the continued implementation of the Capitalist economic system in such countries and a particular set of policies that ensures that these countries can continue to be exploited. This includes prioritising exports, allowing free international capital

The massive IMF bailouts for coronavirus demonstrate just how much funding is available with just this one institution to support the global economy. IMF head Kristalina Georgieva has even talked about being ready to use the full $1 trillion available to the bank while other Western leaders have called for the IMF's funding to be increased even further. And the IMF's COVID-19 funding is being provided fully without any conditionalities, Georgieva merely requesting that countries put this funding to the best use. The question is why this vast funding is available at this time but is not available to support third-world countries in alleviating chronic poverty, flows, and directing expenditure towards massive infrastructure purposed for international trade rather than domestic development.

The West's dependence on economic colonialism is a consequence of their implementation of the failed Capitalist economic system. This system creates a surge of economic activity initially but economic productivity declines as extremely wealthy elite develops at the expense of the rest of the population. This small elite cannot generate the amount of economic activity required to sustain the entire population. Hence it is necessary to look abroad. The condition of Western countries now is that they are even dependent abroad for manufactured products.

Islam was implemented for over a thousand years, and throughout this period built a resilient and dynamic economy genuinely sustained by strong domestic economic activity. Indeed the Islamic economy led the world and is a primary reason for the growing prosperity of the West before they turned to colonialism, as Western countries depended on trade with Muslim lands. Allah (swt) says in the Noble Qur'an:

[هُوَ الَّذِي جَعَلَ لَكُمْ الْأَرْضَ ذَلُولًا فَامْشُوا فِي مَنَاكِبِهَا
وَكُلُوا مِنْ رِزْقِهِ وَإِلَيْهِ النُّشُورُ]

“It is He who made the earth tame for you - so walk among its slopes and eat of His provision - and to Him is the resurrection.” [al-Mulk: 15]

With Allah's permission, the world shall soon see the re-establishment of the Islamic Khilafah (Caliphate) State on the method of the Prophet (saw) that shall unify Muslim lands under its leadership, reject the interference of the foreign disbeliever, implement the Islamic Shari'a, and build again a world-leading civilisation that shall be a source of peace and prosperity for all humankind.

A STATE ADDS A FEAR OF HUNGER TO THAT OF A CORONAVIRUS

In a new measure to curb the global Coronavirus pandemic, the Government has totally shutdown two Muslim highly dominated commercial centers; Eastleigh in Nairobi and Old Town in Mombasa. The Government's claims that the step was not meant to punish the residents of the two suburbs but aimed at protecting Kenyans from infection since the areas have recorded high cases of Covid-19.

This measure will further exacerbate economic situation, since majority of city dwellers have been operating small businesses as means to sustain their daily livelihoods. The directive of deploying heavy police force in the areas shows that the lockdown, which runs for 15 days, is intended to victimize and punish the population on two areas economically. Apparently the state has decided to add another fear of hunger to that of the Coronavirus. Shockingly, when the gangs were terrorizing the residents of Old Town, heavy deployment of security personnel was not present! As the government claim to tame the virus by locking down the areas, surprisingly it is abandoning the lives of its citizens who have been left homeless because of the flash floods. Grievously, more than 100 lives have so far claimed by the floods since the start of long rains.

We say the fact that capitalist states prioritize economic gains over health matters, the Kenyan authorities allowed flights into the country in the early beginning of outbreak in China. The Government is now seen playing blame game on its citizens yet it allowed the virus to import in the country.

Primarily, testing is commendable, but for the citizens to brush off the exercise is indeed an indication they have lost their trust in their authorities who issuing empty promises has been their norm. Poor healthcare system and all the public social services have made citizens not to trust State. There are already reports from media outlets showing people fleeing from the state quarantine centres which some are in unbearable condition and attempting to commit suicide!

Generally, the Coronavirus pandemic has shown the Ummah not only in Kenya but the world generally is lacking truly guardianship of their affairs. It has further indicated secular leaders not in Kenya but the whole world are on record of repeated failures hence there is a wide gap between them and the citizens. In this regard, the whole world should therefore work with Hizb ut Tahrir towards reestablishing a highly caring state whose leader is fully aware that he will be held accountable before Allah (swt) the King of all Kings for how he ran his leadership. That state is Khilafah (Caliphate) based on the method of the Prophethood upon which the citizens will put their trust in it.

AN AFFLICTION THAT BEFALLS THE UMMAH IS MANY TIMES WORSE FOR THE REST OF HUMANKIND

The human is both, an individual and social creature, as such, any affliction has an individual and a social affect upon him. The Qur'an states that the human will be tested with afflictions like old age, torment, thirst, hunger, fatigue, fear, the loss of wealth, life and items. There is also the affliction within the Deen, which is leaving the path of the Deen and violating Allah's orders and restrictions. For example, hesitating on faith matters is the biggest affliction in Deen. Not doing the prayer (salah), not fasting, usury, backbiting and lying is all of an affliction in Deen. So far, all of these were examples of affliction on an individual level. Alongside this, there is affliction on a social level, which affects every person in society, those who fail and those who are innocent, in the same way. Any idea that harms the essence of Islam, which distracts people from Islam is an affliction. Scholars, who fail to speak out the truth; rulers, who do not rule by Islam, are an affliction. Not implementing Islam as a system, kuffar having power and dominance over the Muslims, while banning the system of Allah to history, is all of an affliction. Not being aware of this affliction, or being aware without rejecting it, or even supporting it, is the kind of [وَمَا أَصَابَكُمْ مِّنْ مُّصِيبَةٍ فَبِمَا كَسَبَتْ أَيْدِيكُمْ]

“affliction, for what your hands have earned” [Ash-Shurah: 30]. Afflictions on a social level have always been sent to nations due to their sins, their heresy; for refusing, and oppressing their prophets and those who supported the prophets. This kind of affliction has always resulted in the destruction of that nation. The nations of Nuh, Thamud, Lut, are a warning and lesson to humankind

Today's Coronavirus can be seen as a warning, testing or even punishment of Allah. Hence, a virus, which brings illness or death to an individual, is an affliction for the individual. On the other side, the inadequate medical response and all the erroneous decisions like lock-downs taken by governments due to the virus, which push individuals and societies into economic hardship and destroy the psyche of individuals and society alike, are an affliction of social dimension.

Congregational prayers (of every religion), attending funerals, visiting the ill, gathering for births and weddings are vital needs, necessities for every society. Depriving people of these is an affliction of social dimension, which befell not only the Ummah but the entire humankind.

We are witnessing that the predicted harm of the COVID-19 has by far not reached the harm caused by the merciless and senseless governments, who utilized the virus for their own plans. The death tolls have not been as high as they predicted, and hospitals did not exceed their capacities. The number of infected persons is many hundredfold higher than the number of those who became ill. The number of deaths was a thousandth of the expectations. So, the true affliction is the increased and accelerated cruelty towards humankind of the colonialist capitalist powers across the world. More precisely, the true affliction is the deprivation of humankind from the just, merciful and blessed system of Allah the Exalted. Even though Muslims do sense this calamity much more than the rest of humankind, for them it is only a test, which will result in success in this world and the Hereafter. However, the effects of this affliction will last on the non-Muslims in this world and the Hereafter. Thus an affliction that befalls the Muslims is multiple times worse upon the rest of humankind. The great scholar Ibn Qayyim Al-Jawziyya said, "A calamity upon a Believer, is much lighter than the calamity upon a nonbeliever".

For almost a century now, the Muslims and the entire humankind, is suffering under the exploitation, wars, invasions and all kinds of oppression and calamities inflicted by the kufr colonialist powers, just because the Muslim Ummah lost the shield that was to protect itself and humankind against all kinds of afflictions. The abolition of the Khilafah (Caliphate) from the surface of this planet is the biggest affliction on both, the Ummah and the rest of humankind. It is due to this, that the Muslim Ummah, the beacon of humankind, is unable to save itself and humankind from darkneses. In fact, Rasulallah (saw) informed us about the arrival of these days:

«لَيُنْقَضَنَّ عَرَى الْإِسْلَامِ عُرْوَةٌ عُرْوَةٌ فَكُلَّمَا انْتَقَضَتْ عُرْوَةٌ
تَشَبَّثَ النَّاسُ بِأَلْتِي تَلِيهَا وَأَوْلَهُنَّ نَقْضًا الْحُكْمَ وَأَخْرَهُنَّ
الصَّلَاةَ»

“The knots of Islam will be undone one by one, each time a knot is undone the next one will be grasped, the first to be undone will be the Ruling and the last will be Prayer.” (Hakim, Ahmed)

Thus the first knot, our political system was undone, leaving our Deen and us, its members, without protection, robbing us from our Khalifah, our shield. Moreover, throughout the last few months, we have been robbed of our prayers (salah) on the pretext of a simple virus... Of course we continue our individual prayers, but we lost our congregational prayers, our prayers in the form of an entire Muslim society! They robbed us from our Friday Prayers, Taraweeh Prayers and Eid Prayers!!!

the sultan (ruler) is the guard: that which has no foundation collapses and that which has no guard is lost." This means that whenever the religion of Islam and the ruling of Islam are separated both, the Muslim Ummah and the entire humankind, remain defenceless and vulnerable. In fact, it is obvious for every sane Muslim and non-Muslim today that a handful of globalists seek to minimize the world population. People across the rich capitalist world, including the USA, Britain, Germany and many other European countries, are protesting against being deprived of their freedoms, democracy and even constitution, which they were made to believe in until today. Moreover, their protests are being suppressed by police. These uprisings, which increase in number across the world, are not shown or shown in a distorted way on mainstream media, which is a tool of the ruling governments.

The action and reaction of an individual towards affliction is in the form of pleading to his Lord with invocation and prayer, and to show sabr (patience and steadfastness), as this is what our Lord wants us to do:

[يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ ءَامَنُوا اسْتَعِينُوا بِالصَّبْرِ وَالصَّلَاةِ إِنَّ اللَّهَ مَعَ الصَّابِرِينَ]

“O you who have believed, seek help through patience and prayer. Indeed, Allah is with the patient.” [Al-Baqara: 153].

Imam Gazali (rh) said in his book, Al-İktisad Fi'l-İtikad: "Religion and State are twins. Thus religion is the foundation and of all obligations! When Allah (swt) says in Surah Ar-Ra'd 11,

[إِنَّ اللَّهَ لَا يُغَيِّرُ مَا بِقَوْمٍ حَتَّىٰ يُغَيِّرُوا مَا بِأَنفُسِهِمْ]

“Indeed, Allah will not change the condition of a people until they change what is in themselves.” He (swt) orders the Muslim society to change itself. Thus, as long as the Muslim society does not remove the causes of the disorder in itself, Allah will not remove the afflictions upon it, and will not enable it to become the saviour of humankind.

Oh Muslims! It is Islam, that will dispel all kinds of afflictions! It is Islam, that cures all kinds of illnesses, and puts an end to slaughter, invasions, poverty, helplessness, cowardice, loneliness, abandonment, despair, treason, etc! This Ummah holds the prescription with the remedy against selfish and merciless rulers who only serve the interests of a handful of capitalists! Islam is the only power, the only hand, the only fist that is able to rescue humankind from the clutches of ignorance and Kufr!

[الْحَقُّ مِنْ رَبِّكَ فَلَا تَكُونَنَّ مِنَ الْمُمْتَرِينَ]

“The truth is from your Lord, so never be among the doubters!” [Al-Baqarah: 147]

Zehra Mali

But this is not a society's action and reaction towards afflictions! The sabr, invocation and plead of a society is in the form of "enjoining the good and forbidding the evil" to the rulers. A society's sabr is calling the rulers to renounce from the kufr systems and instead to rule with what Allah has revealed! A society's reaction towards afflictions is through its struggle to change what is harmful and the causes of the faultiness within itself. This struggle is an obligation upon the Muslim society and it is the crown

INTERNATIONAL ORGANIZATIONS SHOULD NOT BE HELD RESPONSIBLE FOR THE HEALTH OF THE WORLD

Trump said during his daily press briefing on the 10th of April that, "over the years, many years, we've been paying them from 300 to 500, and even more, million dollars a year. China has been paying them less than 40 over the years. So we're paying them more than 10 times more than China. And they are very, very China-centric".

Trump's attack on the World Health Organization response to the crisis stems from the desire to deflect from his own failings in handling the crisis, and it highlights a real flaw in the structure and functioning of international organizations under the United Nations umbrella and is supported to some extent by real mistakes made by the World Health Organization.

The WHO tweeted on the 14th of January that "Preliminary investigations conducted by the Chinese authorities have found no clear evidence of human-to-human transmission of the novel coronavirus (2019-nCoV) identified in Wuhan, China", but Chinese doctors were trying to warn the world as early as December that human to human transmission was occurring. In addition to this misdirection from the WHO, the WHO was very late in announcing a viral pandemic and this gave national governments a false justification for delaying their responses.

The WHO is widely regarded as an independent entity, but, of course, Trump is correct in that the organization is made up of people from countries across the world and their different agendas must be reflected in the functioning of the organization. The major way this is reflected, however, is not in decisions and pronouncements that support a specific agenda, but by decisions and announcements being filtered through many layers of bureaucracy in an attempt to be free of diplomatic blame before all member states.

“The United Nations has increasingly become a political arena where high officials engage in political give-and-take and where ‘interest groups’ lobby for their country’s interests [...] Political appointees are frequently not loyal to the United Nations, but to their respective governments, upon which they depend for further reward or punishment” (Finger and Hanan 1980).

Increasing evidence from other domains suggests that the national identities of bureaucrats affect the decision-making of institutions (Kaja and Werker 2010; Johns 2007)

The result is that Chinese claims must take place over Taiwan’s claims, as Taiwan is only recognized by fourteen out of 193 UN member states, and official Chinese government pronouncements take precedence over contradictory claims made by individual Chinese citizens. Furthermore, the bureaucracy ensures slow and careful pronouncements after internal consensus building to avoid offense. Throughout all of this, it is a human organization and as such the influence of some states can be greater than others in some proportion to the size of these states and the amount of their input. The very concept of an international organization or an international law is flawed as only states can be a source of law. States merely agree to function within the so-called international frameworks in accordance with their power and their judgement as to whether this framework serves their long-term interests to such an extent that they will sacrifice some short-term interests.

Knowing the limitations conceptually and practically of the WHO as an international body, any sincere leadership should build its actions upon the basis that it is national governments who are responsible for the health of their people, and not the WHO. Trump, therefore, is wrong to blame the WHO for the fact that the US is now at the epicenter of a pandemic, whose real size within their borders far exceeds their capacity to test for it.

WHAT IF THERE REALLY IS A CONSPIRACY BUT NOT THE ONE YOU ARE THINKING OF?

The phenomenal spread of the Covid-19 virus pandemic has perhaps only been matched by the spread of stories as to how this virus emerged, where it started, who is to blame and who benefits from multiple countries around the world in lockdown? Economies have stalled and lifestyles have been utterly turned upside down. It does seem that with every day comes a new theory to explain things.

The links to Covid-19 of 5G telecommunications has been rightly debunked with no credible science or evidence to suggest 5G roll-out has either caused the virus to spread or is being used as a cover to accelerate 5G technology.

‘Conspiracy theories’ exist to give a counter explanation or exposure of information, by and large hidden, from the public on major world events. There are millions who believe the US moon landings were fake. Many Muslims say the Jews had something to do with the 9/11 attacks. Some cite the UK security services being behind the 7/7 London bombings.

‘Flat Earth’ conventions still gather thousands each year convinced that the earth is indeed flat and the anti-vaxxers movement gains traction every year when vaccine immunisation comes round.

We all have our own favorite conspiracy theory, however implausible; mine is how in the world Manchester United FC were denied a victory against West Ham on the last day of the 1994/95 football season. Victory at West Ham’s ground would have given them the premier league title, but despite dominating the match, hitting the post and the crossbar and the many attempts at goal the final score remained 1-1. Were the opposing players bribed, was the referee short-sighted or was there actually something wrong with the ball. In all seriousness, willing and wanting something to be true doesn’t make it true and no doubt my own confirmation bias as a committed Man Utd fan skews how I view that match.

So it’s quite easy to dismiss most conspiracy theories or the “tin foil hat” brigade as they are known when they are in the David Icke category, or as a bit of harmless fun when you meet someone who is convinced Elvis is still alive.

Things get a little more difficult when trying to explain how the apparent or accepted wisdom gets unraveled after many years and new opinions or facts get established. The tobacco industry went to extraordinary lengths to insist cigarettes were safe and deny the harmful effects of smoking. Saturated fats being linked to heart disease and the need to adopt a ‘low fat diet’ was the accepted scientific and nutritional norm for decades. It is only in recent times that the effects of a high carbohydrate/sugar diet in causing obesity and diabetes and the softdrinks multinationals role in misleading millions has emerged. Conspiracy, collusion or incompetence? Maybe it’s a mixture of all three.

My own disagreement with conspiracy theorists has less to do with their lack of evidence for their claims, but more their search for a “hidden truth” or revelation of a scandal by governments, politicians and the media. This is not to deny that cover-ups, misinformation and things not being as they seem, do happen. They clearly do.

What if the thing being looked for is actually, as the saying goes, hiding in plain sight? What if the dominant political, economic and social viewpoint in the world today, secular liberalism and democracy, or liberal values, is the real issue that needs to be addressed?

Anyone questioning this orthodoxy or having another viewpoint is essentially illiberal (note how the suffix 'il' reinforces the perceived correctness of the noun).

The basis of the liberal order is never scrutinized or put to the test in mainstream society. It is deliberately assumed to be the standard that everything is measured against without question. Consider the political system in the UK. Do the masses get to choose the philosophy of the system they live under and the basis of how legislation is made? Not at all. There has never been a referendum with the question to choose one of the following options: secular liberalism; communism or the Islamic Shari'ah? Nor is there likely to be.

We are all by now familiar with the daily graphs plotting Covid-19 deaths, new infections and hospital admissions on our television screens. There are very few graphs showing the everyday death, suffering, poverty and misery faced by millions of people across the globe surviving on a few dollars a day. The pandemic will subside, but what will remain unchanged is the secular, liberal worldview that was there all along and its contribution to the sorry state of humanity. The danger is we end up not talking about this at a time when it is most needed. Now, that would be a conspiracy.

ANOTHER RAMADAN HAS PASSED WITHOUT A KHALIFAH!

O Muslims let this be the Last Month of Ramadan we have without a Khaleefah!

Praise is to Allah سبحانه وتعالى who made us witness the month of Ramadan, its beginning is mercy, its middle is forgiveness and its end is protection from Hellfire. Ninety-six months of Ramadan have passed without a Khaleefah. Here we are sending off another Ramadan and we are divided and torn.

The Muslim Ummah since the destruction of the Khilafah in 1342 AH has never fasted the month on the same day. When we had our Khilafah, we fasted on the same day and celebrated Eid on the same day. Since then we have been falling from one disaster to another and from one calamity to another, we became torn and dispersed, and lost our strength, because we lost our State.

Our statistical number exceeded a billion Muslims, yet we are like the foam on the sea. Our Messenger صلى الله عليه وسلم saying matches our reality:

يُوشِكُ أَنْ تَدَاعَى عَلَيْكُمْ الْأُمَمُ مِنْ كُلِّ أَفْقٍ كَمَا تَدَاعَى الْأَكْلَةُ عَلَى قَصْعَتِهَا»، قَالَ: فَلْنَا: يَا رَسُولَ اللَّهِ، أَمِنْ فَلَّةٍ بِنَا يَوْمَئِذٍ؟ قَالَ: «أَنْتُمْ يَوْمَئِذٍ كَثِيرٌ، وَلَكِنْ تَكُونُونَ عُنَاءً كَعُنَاءِ السَّيْلِ، يَنْتَرِعُ الْمَهَابَةُ مِنْ قُلُوبِ عَدُوِّكُمْ، وَيَجْعَلُ فِي قُلُوبِكُمُ الْوَهْنَ»، قَالَ: فَلْنَا: وَمَا الْوَهْنُ؟ قَالَ: «حُبُّ الْحَيَاةِ، وَكَرَاهِيَةُ الْمَوْتِ»

“The people will soon summon one another to attack you as people when eating invite others to share their dish.”
Someone asked: Will that be because of our small numbers at that time? He replied: “No, you will be numerous at that time: but you will be like the foam on the sea that is carried down by a torrent, and Allah will remove the fear of you from the breasts of your enemy and place wahn in your hearts.” Someone asked, “What is wahn (enervation)”. Apostle of Allah (peace be upon him), He replied: “Love of the world and dislike of death.” [Ahmad Bin Hanbal]

This is how the Crusaders states headed by America and England gathered to attack the Muslim lands. They occupied its blessed land, and killed its Muslim sons, they stomped their feet on the sanctities and the holy places of the Muslims, and looted their wealth, and they were undeterred; but on the contrary, the rulers of the Muslims served continuously the policies of those colonial Kuffar. They worked to tarnish the revolutions that sprung against the oppressive dictatorial regimes, and were rivaling to betray Muslim blood in Syria and Iraq

O Muslims! You have known that Ramadan is the month of the Qur’an, and Ramadhan is the month of mercy, forgiveness, baraka, and protection from Hellfire, consequently we must increase our Nawafil in addition to the obligations, and to resort to repentance and seeking forgiveness, and to bow and prostrate accurately. You knew also that Ramadan is the month of Jihad and conquests, and that establishing the rightly guided Khilafah is a great obligation; by it other obligations are fulfilled. Khilafah is the crown of obligations, by it alone the banner of jihad is raised high, and by it alone life, honor, and wealth are protected. By it alone Muslims will regain their past glory, status, and esteem. Therefore we must rush to re-establish the rightly guided Khilafah state just before another noble month, not fearing any criticism.

O Muslims! Enough waiting, it is time for you to work for the establishment of the Khilafah. Work so that this is the last Ramadan without a Khaleefah, and for the return of our Ramadan as it used to be: the month of victory and conquests; this matter is easy to Allah سبحانه وتعالى.

In this blessed occasion of the month of Shawaal, we wish you and the Ummah a Ramadan Mubarak, and ask Allah سبحانه وتعالى to make the coming months the months of victory for the re-establishment of the rightly guided Khilafah, and to bestow upon the entire Muslim Ummah the good in abundance.

يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا اسْتَجِيبُوا لِلَّهِ وَلِلرَّسُولِ إِذَا دَعَاكُمْ لِمَا يُحْيِيكُمْ وَاعْلَمُوا أَنَّ اللَّهَ يَحُولُ بَيْنَ الْمَرْءِ وَقَلْبِهِ وَأَنَّهُ إِلَيْهِ تُحْشَرُونَ

“O you who have believed, respond to Allah and to the Messenger when he calls you to that which gives you life. And know that Allah intervenes between a man and his heart and that to Him you will be gathered”

(Al-Anfal: 24)
