The Egyptian Regime Gathers Sudanese Factions for the Benefit of America and to Consolidate its Authority, Not for the Benefit of the Nation or the People of Sudan!

(Translated)

On Saturday, 6 June 2024, a conference of Sudanese civil political forces was launched in the Egyptian capital, Cairo, in a new Egyptian attempt to end the ongoing war in Sudan. Observers believe this attempt may lay the groundwork for a broader dialogue, while others downplay the significance of the breakthroughs it might achieve. (Al-Araby Al-Jadeed). The Egyptian Ministry of Foreign Affairs extended invitations to "more than 50 leaders of political, civil, and social forces, as well as national figures, religious leaders, and community administrators. The invitation - extended to organizations rather than political blocs- excluded the Islamic current." According to the invitation letter, "the conference, hosted by the New Administrative Capital in Cairo, will listen in parallel sessions to the visions of civil and political forces regarding the negative repercussions of the current conflict in Sudan, ways to address it, the nature of the needs required for those affected, as well as shedding light on the determinants of Sudanese-Sudanese political dialogue." (Al-Nashra)

The Egyptian regime, like all the regimes in our countries, lacks sovereignty and does not act autonomously or even in the interest of Egypt or its neighbours. Instead, its movements are dictated by its masters in the White House to safeguard their interests and consolidate their dominance. This is evident from the regime's actions in Libya, Yemen, and even Syria and Lebanon, its blockade of our people in Gaza, and most recently, its actions towards our people in Sudan. The regime is attempting to neutralize the British-backed civil forces and end the conflict in a way that maintains American influence and consolidates its authority. This is undoubtedly what America has tasked the Egyptian regime to accomplish through this conference and other means. Egypt is undertaking many tasks in favour of America and accomplishing them effectively. The regimes that have succeeded in Egypt since the July 1952 Revolution until now have all served their masters in the White House and have not been concerned with the interests of what they call neighbouring countries or even the interests of Egypt itself. America, which caused Egypt to separate from Sudan, may in the future work on a new division of Sudan, and Egypt could be a tool for this division and a motivator for it, even if it means losing parts of its own territory.

What Egypt must do now is stand against America's projects and firmly confront the fighters in Sudan, preventing them from shedding the blood of our people there and stopping them, even by force, to protect the people. Moreover, the duty is for Sudan, in both its parts, to become part of Egypt again, as it once was, thereby adding strength to Egypt's strength. This would enable Egypt to free itself from American dependence rather than submitting to it, following its lead, and implementing its projects.

Egypt's duty is to lead the Ummah towards liberation from the dependence on the infidel West, not to be part of the tools in the struggle for power among the sovereignty and wealth thieves in Europe and America. Its duty is to be a shield that protects the Ummah from the infidel West, its proxies, and its tools. Egypt's duty is to work towards the unity of the Ummah, the restoration of its authority, and the eradication of Western influence and its artificial borders that have divided and weakened the Ummah. Egypt's duty is to lead the Ummah towards uprooting capitalism and fully implementing Islam in its comprehensive form within the State of the Khilafah Rashidah (Rightly Guided Caliphate) on the method of the Prophethood.

What Egypt must do for the Ummah will not be achieved by America's agents, for they are at war with the Ummah and part of the infidel West's conspiracy against it. They are the first who must be uprooted so that the Ummah can regain its authority and establish the State that Hizb ut Tahrir strives for and calls the Ummah to work towards and live under: the single Islamic State that does not recognize the Sykes-Picot borders and does not submit to the infidel West and its influence; the Khilafah Rashidah on the method of the Prophethood.

﴿يَا أَيُّهَا الَّذِينَ آمَنُوا اسْتَجِيبُوا لِلَّهِ وَلِلرَّسُولِ إِذَا دَعَاكُمْ لِمَا يُحْيِيكُمْ﴾

“O you who have believed, respond to Allah and to the Messenger when he calls you to that which gives you life.” [Al-Anfal:24].
