The "Death Rather than Humiliation" Conflict with the Tyrant of Ash-Sham is Like the Bellows, Banishes the Bad Odour of the Dirty Money from the Supporters and Manifests the Sweet Scent of the Truthful Sincere

(Translated)

After the supporters' money extinguished the flame of battles in Horan; and the freezing of fighting fronts with the regime dominated the scene in the south for a protracted period of time on our people in Syria, to the extent that one surmised Horan, the cradle of the revolution, had abandoned its revolution; and stopped championing its brothers, and that reconciliation and negotiations with the regime on the American political solution became its doom ...

The battle of "Death Rather than Humiliation", that was announced by Al-Bonyan al-Marsous Operation Room in Daraa on 12th February, came to turn the tables on the schemes of the supporters with the dirty money, and the sincere fighters moved in masses into Daraa; racing to participate in the long-awaited battle. Since the people of Ash-Sham longed for battles that have sovereign decision, self-planning and autonomous backing; away from the supporters' control and their links.

So, a picture appeared that was seen by many; where the fighters turned on their leaders who they are associated with, and violated the orders of the supporters, in a scene that proves that the weightiness and the decision holders are the people of the country and not the states and their tools and money.

As for the position of the states; it was the hatred and hostility for this fight, for they have tried to prevent it; as several strong factions withdrew before the battle and then attempted to fail it by preventing arming it ... and exercised heavy pressure to stop it. Many people witnessed their acts, at a time when the Jordanian regime closed its borders in the face of those wounded in the battle; refusing to provide treatment for them and let them bleed to death while it (the Jordanian regime) opens its airspace, so that the planes of the criminal regime and Russia cross its borders; enabling them to maneuver freely; to target our people in Horan... But all that did not deter the resolve of the sincere from persisting and fighting, and so was Allah's victory to them. So, they liberated most of al-Manshiyya strategic neighborhood, which faces the areas where the regime is found, putting it in the range of its fire, which made the regime to transgress in fighting and bombing it and increase in destroying it.

As for the supporter's malicious money; the Mujahideen had discarded it even if it is a lot, and instead they contented themselves with the good money of the public even if its little, the public support sprung to generously collect the alms; and despite its limitations, it is more plentiful and blessed than the millions of dollars from states...

O Militant Factions in the Land of Ash-Sham: for so long we have been putting in your hands that the supporting states do not want you to triumph over the regime; nor to topple it and establish the state of Islam in its place ... and that the states' way over you is the support they provide to you, in order for you to march with your people with them; and enable them after all these sacrifices to reproduce the criminal regime once again; through the negotiation channels to establish the American political solution they offer you ... So, turn your backs on their support; and turn away from them. Reform what is between you and your public support; and follow a single political project that unites you behind an aware and enlightened political leadership; that will lead you to topple the regime and establish on its ruins the State of Islam. And if you fear the cunning of those states, then here is Daraa in front of you, is not harmed by the plots of the supporters.

O Sincere Fighters in the Land of Ash-Sham: you thought yourselves unable to violate the supporter's orders; and you see yourselves, powerless to open a battle away from them, and now the battle of Daraa has proven the error of these perceptions ... We had put in your hands a precious advice since the onset of your Jihad ... and here we are repeating it to you once again... Put your hands in the hands of those like you; and choose your military leadership from those who have competence amongst you; and be content by the support of your public supporters; and sever all relations with countries; and march behind the political leadership of Hizb ut Tahrir on its political project; which will make you, with Allah's permission, traverse the darkness of countries' deceit and their conspiracies to you; and will take you to your objective for which you came out for; toppling the regime and establishing the system of Islam on its ruins.

O Our People in Ash-Sham: You are the one who fail the schemes of the cunning states with your steadfastness on your objective throughout this period; and you are the supporters for your factions and the fighters among your sons; As you to correct their crookedness and make them follow the truth (Al-haqq); and you are the source of the support that was prescribed by Islam for our jihad. So, do not let your sons susceptible to the control of the supporting countries leading them to their doom by fighting each other; weakening them and allowing the regime to individualize them. So, draw near to your sons, the sincere fighters; and gather around them to protect, support, back and custody them; and walk with them on the project of Hizb ut Tahrir behind its political leadership to achieve your goals of toppling the regime and establish the rule of Islam.
