

Obamas Last Nuclear Security Summit

News:

Representatives from 56 nations and organizations gathered in Washington on Thursday for the two-day Nuclear Security Summit. The conference, aimed at “strengthening the global nuclear security architecture,” is President Barack Obama’s fourth and final one.

“Thursday in Washington, I’ll welcome more than 50 world leaders to our fourth Nuclear Security Summit to advance a central pillar of our Prague Agenda: preventing terrorists from obtaining and using a nuclear weapon,” Obama wrote in a Washington Post op-ed published Wednesday. “We’ll review our progress, such as successfully ridding more than a dozen countries of highly enriched uranium and plutonium. Nations, including the United States, will make new commitments, and we’ll continue strengthening the international treaties and institutions that underpin nuclear security.” The summit comes amid enduring concerns over the security of nuclear materials in high-risk facilities, such as those located in Pakistan, and fears that the Islamic State group, which has been stepping up its offensive in Europe, may find ways to develop radioactive “dirty bombs.”

Comment:

For decades, the mere existence of nuclear weapons has detonated a global ideological struggle, which has been passed off as an arms race.

Nations have become indebted to the acquisition of Nuclear weapons, by over taxing citizens and spending national wealth on a manufactured threat that has shifted from one ideology; Communism, to another; Islam.

Intricate narratives about values, intolerance, freedoms and world domination have been developed over the last few decades to groom populations towards an irrational distrust of Islam and a blind adherence to secular liberal values. Allowing for complete collaboration between every nation’s arms industry and its foreign policy.

The idea of uniting against nuclear terrorism has served as a smokescreen to the very real atrocities carried out by these concerned leaders; arguably the focus on nuclear activity, disarmament or proliferation is a distraction from the reality.

A reality whereby the perversely named ‘conventional weapons’ include Dirty Bombs, which are radioactive and devastating to all life forms, corrupting DNA to cause malformations, and have been used in Afghanistan. Chemical weapons such as Plutonium, White phosphorus, Mustard gas, Sarin gas, and Chlorine, which are created specifically to burn, torture and degenerate the human body, have been used widely in Syria, Iraq and Gaza. Depleted Uranium has been used by the US in Iraq countless times in the last decade causing fetal abnormalities never before encountered in the medical profession. And no discussion about munitions can be complete without noting the Jewish entity’s DIME (dense inert metal explosive).

Recently developed by the US army to create a powerful and lethal blast over a small area. The DIME was used extensively in the Jewish entity's operations carried out in Gaza in 2012 and 2014, and some stated that had the Jewish entity received a green light from the US military to treat Gaza as a testing ground. "We have seen Gaza used as a laboratory for testing what I call weapons from hell," said David Halpin, a retired British surgeon and trauma specialist who has visited Gaza on several occasions to investigate unusual injuries suffered by Gazans.

Daisy cutters in civilian areas have been the norm, as is the use of Drones upon huge regions of the Ummah. Even weapons such as rape and bestiality, a particular favorite of the French and US military in Bosnia and most recently in CAR cannot be overlooked when examining Obama's hypocritical stance towards stability and so called peace.

The unspoken truth at Obama's summit is that Capitalist nations led by the US and the Jewish entity have created a world where fear and paranoia enable certain governments to effectively launder wealth between themselves, feeding their elite corporations and industries to sustain their nations' economic growth, under the guise of global terrorism and Islamism.

Actually the global nuclear threat we are drip fed, is non-existent given the only powers using weapons of mass destruction are the ones who have them; the western governments and their client states. Obama's pretense of terrorist groups or rogue states gaining control only proves the idea has been literally blown out of proportion to serve the allies' interests in the Middle East, AfPak and MENA regions. Grass roots realities speak for themselves; the Muslim nations are the only victims of these horrendous weapons. When any desire to live by Islam is manifest, these weapons serve the colonial West and their client regimes very well, in crushing political dissent, creating sectarian unrest and forcing a mass movement of refugees.

The Quran has taught us to distinguish between truth and falsehood, so we look to Islam and the impending return of the Khilafah (Caliphate) on the way of the Prophethood for our security, and place no trust or allegiance with the illegitimate plans of the Taghut.

And when it is said to them,

﴿وَإِذَا قِيلَ لَهُمْ لَا تُفْسِدُوا فِي الْأَرْضِ قَالُوا إِنَّمَا نَحْنُ مُصْلِحُونَ﴾

"Do not cause corruption on the earth," they say, "We are but reformers."
